

Ben Lomond & Tamar Valley Vineyards

Craggy Peaks, Tasmanian Wine & Photography

The Experience - 6-7 hours

A day of contrasts while visiting the magnificent alpine peaks of Ben Lomond National Park before moving on to the Relbia wine region, visiting Velo and Josef Chromy Vineyards

Josef Chromy Wines

It's a stunning location to experience superb Tasmanian wines and fine cuisine made with fresh local produce. Savour award-winning cool-climate wines amid the stunning vineyard surrounds of Josef Chromy Wines where every tasting tells a story of Tasmanian regional identity."

Lunch at the Josef Chromy Restaurant provides a unique location for sensational views that overlook the picturesque lake and vineyard.

Ben Lomond National Park

The spectacular Ben Lomond plateau is the most extensive alpine plateau in Tasmania. It is a mountain environment with extensive and dramatic dolerite cliffs and columns. Its scree slopes, swirling mists, and frost-stunted forests are reminiscent of a Tolkien landscape. We drive up Jacobs Ladder, a series of hairpin bends, to marvel at the breathtaking view from the platform at the top. The Ben Lomond plateau has 8 of the 20 highest peaks in Tasmania and the highest drivable point in Tasmania, where Bennett's wallaby and wombats may be seen in daylight hours.

Velo Vineyard

You will enjoy the wine, the knowledge, and the relaxed character of the cellar door personnel. The vineyard has particular significance with Sauvignon and Pinot Noir plantings, making the Cabernet vines some of the oldest in Tasmania.
